TOWN HIT BY TWO BLAZES

A blaze at the derelict St Martin's Church on the corner of Priory Hill and High Street in Dover made a spectacular but distressing sight on Saturday. The following day a former college in the town also went up in flames. FOR THE FULL STORY and more images, visit Yourdover.co.uk.

BY DAVID PRITCHARD

GOLF'S Open Championship is coming back to the Royal St George's Club at Sandwich.

The announcement, made yesterday at the St George's club itself, is fantastic news for the east Kent economy, which is set to benefit to the tune of some £20 million.

The club will host the four-day event in 2011 and local businesses can expect a bumper windfall.

Dover council leader Paul Watkins said: "This is a wonderful chance for east Kent to showcase its magnificent countryside, its golf courses and its economic opportunities in advance of the Olympics."

On the last occasion Royal St George's staged the Open, four years ago, 183,000 people flocked to Sandwich – an increase of 50 per cent on its previous visit in 1993 and 23,000 above the predicted attendance.

David Hill, director of championships for the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St Andrews, which organises the tournament, said the course was outstanding. "We are delighted that the Open is returning to Sandwich," he said.

"It is a huge undertaking and the R&A would therefore like to thank the club for their co-operation, which has enabled the championship to return to this fine venue."

A report commissioned by Dover council into the championship's impact said the 2003 event had generated £17.6 million additional spending in east Kent and created thousands of temporary jobs.

Occupancy rates jumped from a July average of 76 per cent to 94 per cent and more than half the area's hotels were booked out by golf visitors.

The previous Open in Sandwich saw a huge upset when world number 396 Ben Curtis lifted the famous claret jug.

'Yobs forcing the elderly from town'

■ BY MARIJKE COX

ELDERLY people move out of their homes when Friday and Saturday night trouble begins in Deal, a town councillor has claimed.

Cllr Brian Henderson, of Deal Town Council, said: "Anti-social behaviour in Deal over the weekend is so bad that many of the elderly residents go and stay with friends.

"Drunken violence, vandalism and teenagers racing about in their cars are some of the things that happen frequently on a Friday and Saturday night.

"It doesn't help that establishments are staying open into the early hours. A late licence application has just been granted for one particular place that will now stay open until 4am and where patrons can bring their own alcohol."

Cllr Julie Rook, portfolio holder for citizenship and consumer affairs, thinks that central government legislation has done little to help the situation.

She said: "Anti-social behaviour is not helped by the 24-hour licensing laws. The licensing department finds it very difficult to turn down applications as they have no reason to refuse them because of the law.

"I don't think the problem has got worse here over the years, though. I just think we need more policemen on the streets. At the turn of the 20th century there were 45 policemen stationed in the town, now there are just a handful."

Cars form one of the main disturbances at night, with drivers playing loud music, revving their engines and hanging out in car parks.

Mrs Rook said: "People know they can get away with it because there are no policemen on the streets to stop them."

Trouble with anti-social behaviour is hardly uncommon in this country, but when an apparently sleepy seaside town like Deal suffers, residents get frustrated and upset.

Cllr Henderson said: "People on the district council want the area to keep its good reputation, but they need to realise how bad the problem is getting.

"People leaving nightclubs are hanging around the kebab house and starting fights or vandalising cars. Just last night there was a group of drunken youths causing trouble in the high street – it took three calls to the police before they were moved on."

Mrs Rook says the community needs to work together to try to stop the problems.

She said: "We need to stand up to these people. Not all of them are causing trouble, but they still need to start having a bit more respect for residents living in the town centre."

Just last month more than 1,000 members of the public voted at Kent Police Authority roadshows that anti-social behaviour was one of the county's worst problems.

New packaging puts hospital jobs on line

A NEW method of packaging food could mean job cuts at Dover's Buckland Hospital.

Meals wrapped with a steam-release valve called Steamplivity have been used at Margate hospital since May, and now there are plans to bring them to Buckland.

Twenty catering posts at the hospital will reduce to two if the plans go ahead. Medirest, the company behind the scheme, is looking to redeploy staff at Ashford and Canterbury.

Dover makes chosen for children's centre

DOVER is one of 13 towns across the county selected for a new children's centre.

The county council and partner agencies have sent their choices to the Government Department for Schools, Children and Families final approval.

The Government decided in 2003 that every local authority should find sites for children's centres, primarily in the most deprived wards.

The council aims to have 72 up and running across the county by 2008.

Worthy tribute to the man who got Spurs going

Service for reverend who died a pauper

A CEREMONY this week gave deserved recognition to the founder of Tottenham Hotspur FC who lies in a pauper's grave in Dover.

The Rev John Ripsher founded the Premiership club in order to get the youngsters of 19th century London off the streets.

Rev Ripsher ended up blind and died in a workhouse 100 years ago this month. He is buried in St Mary's Cemetery.

Spurs' executive director, Paul Barber and Steve Ripsher, a descendant, were present and afterwards the mayor hosted a civic reception.

"It's a fascinating story: poetic and sad," said Mr Barber. "There is huge respect here for what John did in those early years — not just founding the club, but keeping it going."

The Rev Ripsher's tale was unearthed by Peter Lupson, whose discovery that

■ BY NICK AMES

Everton were formed by boys in the Bible class at St Domingo's Methodist Chapel, set him on an 11-year search for the religious roots of the game.

"I had formed a church youth league on Merseyside," said Mr Lupson, "and the boys told me they were being ridiculed for playing in it. I needed some street credibility and the key was to be able to say that Everton and Liverpool owe their very existence to a chapel."

Rev Ripsher was a bible teacher at All Hallows Church in Tottenham and the club's first president.

"He gripped my imagination," said Mr Lupson. "He stood by those boys, who had continually let him down. If he had not, there would be no club today."

For Spurs, the timing of Lupson's discovery was fortuitous, said Barber. "It is fitting because it's our 125th birthday match next week, against Aston Villa."

Mr Lupson discovered that 12 of the 39 clubs that have played in the Premiership share a church background.

He discovered a vicar's daughter whose attempts to tackle squalid living conditions led to the creation of Manchester City, and a vicar whose commitment to fighting poverty helped found Bolton Wanderers.

Mr Lupson added: "What grieves me — having spent so long researching these people that I almost feel I know them — is the disrepair so many of the graves had fallen into."

"A lot of people I have spoken to are fascinated by the humble origins of their clubs. I want to see them restored to some level of dignity, and the clubs agree wholeheartedly."

Also present at the memorial were relatives of ex-Spurs star, Walter Tull, the first black professional outfield player in Britain, who died serving as an officer during World War One.

Ecstasy charges

ALLEGED drug dealer Martin Taylor, 23, is due to face Crown Court trial on November 12, charged with supplying ecstasy to clubbers.

Taylor, of Owen Square in Deal, has admitted possessing the drug for his own use but denies supplying it.

While he is at Maidstone Crown Court he will also be sentenced for failing to provide a specimen of breath for screening after he crashed his Fiesta into a wall at Stockdale Gardens, Deal, on September 15.

When taken into custody at Dover police station, it is alleged he faked collapsing to avoid an intoximeter test.

Driver fined for fleeing accident scene by school

ANGRY pupils kicked and punched a car after a 13-year-old girl was knocked over outside Astor School in Dover, a court has been told.

Fiona Turp, 51, of Clarendon Place, Dover, drove away in fear after knocking the youngster off her feet in September last year.

She admitted at Folkestone court failing to stop after an accident, failing to report an accident, and driving without due care and attention.

The court heard that Turp was collecting her son when the accident happened. Luckily the young girl only suffered bruising to her hip and foot.

As Turp was driving, she pinned the youngster to a parked moped. When confronted by the girl's mother, Turp replied she didn't realise she had struck her.

Charles Medlicott, defending, said his client was driving in the school approach road when she saw up to 15 pupils coming towards her. It was then the 13-year-old girl was struck.

Mr Medlicott said: "It all seemed to happen in slow motion. The weight of the car wasn't resting on the girl. My client didn't realise the girl was injured."

"A group of pupils formed and they became aggressive and intimidating. Abuse was shouted at her."

"Doors were kicked and one pupil started fiddling with [Turp's] wing mirror. One pupil shouted 'You stupid bitch — look what you've done'."

"[Turp] thought it best to get out of there. She drove to a phone box called the school and told them what had happened. She didn't report the accident to police. Since the accident last year she has had problems with children from the school."

"My client didn't speed off. She reported the incident to the school but didn't tell police."

Turp was fined £250 and her licence endorsed for careless driving, and fined £50 for failing to stop. She also had six penalty points added to her licence and was ordered to pay £100 costs.

A well turned out event

A FASHION SHOW at Hythe Imperial Hotel has raised more than £700 for charity.

The event, which was in aid of the Pilgrims Hospice Charity, featured clothes from a range of high street and independent designers.

Event organiser Sarah Lawless said: "I was so impressed with the turnout – all of the seats were sold out."

High street stores such as Miss Selfridges, Bay Trading, Burtons and Pietro Filippi contributed outfits.

There was also a strong showing from local designer boutiques such as Vestiti, Marmalade Ho, Scarpe, Limelight and Farrago. Collections from designers Sammy Eaton, Belle Sauvage and Arm Candy were also worn.

The highlight was the evening wear collections from Vestiti in Hythe, Limelight in Sandgate and Coast.

Thugs attack street cleaner

YOBS who assaulted a street cleaner in Folkestone and broke his arm are being hunted by police.

The 62-year-old was injured when he was pushed over by one of the yobs on the zig-zag path which leads from The Leas in Folkestone down to the seafront.

The attackers verbally abused the man before pushing over his work barrow and then knocking him to the ground.

The incident happened at about 10.15am on Friday.

A police spokesman said: "The main offender is a white male aged 15 or 16, six feet two inches and of slim build with short fair hair. He was wearing a blue tracksuit with a blue stripe on the arms."

WORLD RECORD TRAIN JOURNEY

EUROSTAR set a new world record time for a Brussels to London journey as a train hit 186 mph as it roared out of the Channel Tunnel.

Journey time to the new terminal at St Pancras in London was just one hour, 43 minutes and 59 seconds for the 232-mile trip from the Midi station in the Belgian capital.

When regular services are brought in, average trips will take a little longer – one hour, 51 minutes.

Seth Williams, who works for Eurostar, was on board the high-speed train. He said: "It was great to be able to take part in such a historic journey. It was a thrilling ride and a very smooth one."

The trains hit 186 mph shortly after leaving the stations in Britain and Europe. They then slow down to just over 100mph for the trip through the Channel Tunnel before accelerating to maximum speed seconds after exiting.

The recently-opened 68-mile UK high-speed link will soon be used by all Eurostar services.

St Pancras is also a closer destination than the previous terminal of Waterloo, allowing services to run more quickly.

Bosses eye Dungeness for third nuclear plant

PROPOSALS to generate nuclear power at Dungeness beyond the lifespan of the current station are being examined by British Energy.

Bosses at the nuclear plant have met members of Shepway council to update them on the situation regarding power for the future.

British Energy is looking at sites for future power station construction and a spokesman said: "We want to see where we can build in the coming years, and Dungeness is certainly one of those under consideration."

"We own the land so there is no problem in that respect."

"Locally there is an experienced workforce we can draw on, which is another important factor."

"However, no decision has yet been reached, as a period of public consultation on the future of energy generation is not over until October 10."

■ BY NICK AMES

At present, nuclear energy accounts for about 20 per cent of the country's needs, but this figure is set to fall as more plants become obsolete.

Dungeness A has already closed down and although its sister station Dungeness B has been granted a stay of execution it will still cease operations in 2018.

After that, it is estimated that nuclear power could account for just three per cent of the UK's total output.

The plant has 550 full-time staff and up to 300 contract workers at any one time, making it one of the major employers in Shepway.

A British Energy spokesman said: "The meeting with councillors was to update them on the current situation regarding nuclear power."

"British Energy brings two messages for the future."

"One is its ability to produce large amounts of electricity at stable prices as it does not have to take into account fluctuations in the cost of importing gas, which is increasingly used at power stations rather than coal and oil."

"The second is the fact that nuclear power does not produce the levels of carbon dioxide that other generating processes do. Those were among the subjects outlined at the meeting."

The Government outlined its commitment to nuclear fuels being part of plans for future energy generation earlier this year.

But the apparent policy statement has sparked alarm among a number of environmental groups, including Greenpeace and the Green Party.

Steve Dawe, of Kent Green Party, said: "We reject any return to nuclear power, which produces electricity more expensively than wind, coal, gas or oil-fired sources."

Marsh farmer's FMD anger

A CATTLE farmer has spoken of his anger over the continuing problems with foot and mouth disease in (FMD) southern England.

Steve Furnival, who owns milking cows and calves, said: "Like everybody else, I was truly disappointed and devastated."

"I had hoped that we had got all of that behind us."

Mr Furnival, who owns Honeychild Manor Farm on Romney Marsh, said: "It is very disappointing that it hasn't been contained the first time round."

News that the outbreak probably originated from Government laboratories at the Institute for Animal Health in Pirbright, Surrey, meant it was more likely that the strain would be identified, said Mr Furnival.

"It is better that it's been linked to that site than not linked to that site - at least we know it's the same strain. I suppose there is some comfort in that fact."

"I just hope they have got it under control and it doesn't get out of the protection zone," said Mr Furnival.

QUESTION & ANSWER

DEAN STILES

Q How much do you think Dover has changed over the years?

A Dover has changed, but slowly, which is a good thing in that few people like dramatic change but a bad thing in that it has also concealed Dover's economic slowdown.

Dover has kept its size and scale and not suffered from poorly-planned housing estates, or, worse still, out-of-town shopping centres.

Dover Harbour Board is to be congratulated on maintaining the seafront, keeping it open for all to enjoy and retaining the charm of the older buildings.

As with so much of Britain, roads have become too dominant. The dualled A20, splitting the town from the harbour, is to be regretted, along with the motor-racing circuit that Dover's one-way system has become. But the upside is that property is still reasonably priced in Dover, making it one of the few places affordable for first-time buyers – what a pity there are so few employment opportunities.

Q What made you want to stand as candidate for the Liberal Democrats in Dover?

A I am a passionate believer in the importance of local government. I am standing as a Liberal Democrat because the party has a good track record across the UK of providing sound local management. Equally I share the party's core values of fairness, liberty, individual freedom and social cohesion. As a representative of Dover's residents I want to bring those values to council decisions about the town and ensure Dover develops for the benefit of all its residents, not just those with the power and wealth.

Q Some people have negative opinions about Dover. Do you think they are justified?

A Yes, because everyone is entitled to his or her opinion. And, certainly from an economic point of view, some negative comment is justified because Dover is underperforming relative to the rest of Kent. Most people I meet, like me, are pleased to live in Dover and proud of our town. That doesn't mean we can't also be a bit critical and strive to keep the things we like and change the things we don't.

Q Are there any changes you would like to see happen?

A Given the volume of trade that passes through Dover, it should be getting more in the way of Government spending. Dover also needs to lessen its dependence on the port. Yes, the port provides the focus for the town and is still its biggest employer, but there is a danger that this obscures the need to create more varied and better-paid jobs that complement the predominantly low-paid and low-skilled port employment opportunities. There is also considerable tourist potential and much more could be made of Dover's enormous historical heritage – and I don't mean the castle, but things like the Roman Painted House.

Q What made you want to live in the area?

A I have been in and out of Dover over the past 20 years and settled here permanently two years ago. I know it sounds like a cliché, but is true nonetheless, that it's the friendliness of Dover's people that attracted me here. They have made me extraordinarily welcome. I like the edge that Dover has because it's a port and a working town, not some chocolate box cover tourist spot.

Q Are you feeling confident about the elections?

A It would be foolish not to recognise that this is not an easily winnable seat. But the complacency of Labour and the Conservative representatives in this area does need to be challenged.

A fresh voice on the council is just the thing and I am confident that a lot of the voters in Dover think the same. I am campaigning for county support to help Dover deal with the problems associated with being Britain's busiest port. Traffic is a particular problem for the town trying to deal with thousands of vehicle movements in and out of the port, particularly trucks.

High on the agenda, if elected, will be improved waste management for Kent. I would like to see a county-wide approach towards waste management including recycling.

Fury over ex-star's new blow

MP JULIAN BRAZIER says he is "horrified" after Home Office chiefs rejected former Kent cricket star Hartley Alleyne's latest bid to remain in the country.

Despite living in the UK for almost 30 years, the ex-West Indies player saw his second attempt for a permit rejected.

It means Mr Alleyne, who works as a teacher at St Edmund's School in Canterbury and has three children, could be deported within 28 days.

Now the Conservative politician has called on immigration minister Liam Byrne to personally intervene and overrule the latest decision.

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

He has called for an urgent meeting with the minister and penned a strongly-worded letter outlining his dismay.

Barbados-born Mr Alleyne, 50, was originally told he could be slung out of the country in May because he did not hold the relevant qualifications.

He has subsequently achieved the NVQ requested – but still faces deportation.

In his letter to Mr Byrne, Mr Brazier said: "Following our exchange on the residential status of Hartley Alleyne I was horrified to hear that he has been turned down for a work permit, despite having achieved the NVQ which was mooted.

"He has been in this country for 29 years, with a few gaps, and has children who are British citizens here."

The Home Office's decision is based on rules that state a work permit will only be granted if an employer can demonstrate the post requires a NVQ Level 3, HND or degree qualification.

Despite the fact that Mr Alleyne gained an NVQ qualification over the summer, it remains the case that his job at St Edmund's School does not require this level of training.

Mr Alleyne has not been allowed to work at St Edmund's since his first application was turned down in April, but the school has continued to let him stay. But now it is no longer allowed to employ him, he will have to move out of his home and could be deported any time from October.

NO REPRIEVE: Mr Alleyne faces deportation despite living in the UK for the past 30 years

County town club will be an Ikon for clubbing

THE clubbing scene in the county town is set to be transformed when Ikon reopens in November after a £3 million upgrade.

The new 1,800-capacity club has had a complete refit and will be relaunched as Liquid and Envy.

The Lockmeadow Leisure Complex in Barker Road will be split into two rooms, with a number of unique party booths overlooking the dance floor.

For an exclusive look inside the club, go to Yourkenttv.co.uk and the community channel.

Olympics blamed for arts funding struggle

LOTTERY money being diverted into the London 2012 Olympic Games is stifling opportunities for the arts in Ashford.

In the week a campaign was launched to push for a theatre in the town, council chiefs said although a venue was in long-term plans, hopes of landing crucial funds were struggling.

Christopher Dixon, of Ashford council, said: "At the moment the general climate for funding the arts is difficult because so much money is being redirected to the Olympics.

"We are addressing the problem."

Islamic state school could be set up in county

MUSLIM community leaders are calling for a state-funded Islamic school to be set up to serve the county.

Anwar Khan, of the Kent Muslim Welfare Association, said hundreds of children were being deprived of an education in a specialist faith school.

Kent County Council has offered help but said a state-funded school would have to follow the national curriculum and there would have to be enough children wanting to attend for it to be set up.

NORMAL LIFE: Virus almost killed little Amber

Pacemaker that let Amber live

TODDLER Amber Howe is set to live a normal life just three months after a heart blockage almost killed her.

The two-year-old became the second youngest person in the UK ever fitted with a pacemaker after she stopped breathing while she slept.

Within hours she was undergoing surgery at a top London hospital where surgeons inserted the electronic device to control her heartbeat.

And this week doctors have told her mum Ali that the operation was a total success and little Amber will be able to live a normal life.

"It was the worst night of my life and we are all so relieved Amber has pulled through," said Ali, who lives in Sittingbourne.

Doctors say Amber had a heart blockage as a result of a simple but potentially deadly virus. Like thousands of children, she was off her food and a little tired, but her mum thought it was just a normal childhood illness.

But the Myocarditis virus inflames the heart wall, causing chest pain and an abnormal heartbeat.

In severe cases, like Amber's, it weakens the heart's pump action and starves the body of oxygen-rich blood, leading to a stroke or heart attack.

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in Dover...

Crash, bang, wallop – the perils of parking your car

BRITNEY Spears was seen crying in the news this week after claims she drove into a parked car and failed to report the accident.

Her tears were no doubt genuine, but some people in her position would be weeping only because they were caught.

Unfortunately for us lesser mortals it is not so easy to catch the culprit who knocked off our wing-mirrors or 'dinked' our cars, leaving us with a large bill and trips to the garage.

Living on a busy road, it is never a surprise to arrive at my car only to see that one of the wing-mirrors is half way down the street in pieces. I would be more surprised if there was a knock on my door with a stranger offering a £20 note and directions to the nearest scrap-yard!

Only a few days ago I was in my car when an elderly lady drove into the back of me. No damage was done, but I was left wide-eyed and open mouthed as she shook her head and drove off.

Obviously my car was a mere inconvenience that had got in the way of her 10-point turn.

In this case my vehicle was fine – unlike my old car which was parked outside my house when written off by a passing Co-op lorry.

I only found out because my neighbours watched him crash into it.

He drove off down the road probably a little shamefaced, but lost in thought over how to explain the damage to his lorry.

People come to expect things like this to happen though. Surely, that is why we pay extraordinarily high amounts on car insurance to cover ourselves in preparation for these situations.

You would think so anyway. When a woman drove into the side of my car two years ago she was back on the road within a week, whereas I was left with a crushed Rover Metro, a cheque for £200 and a bus ticket in my back pocket.

It made me realise that I was paying all this money, and for what? I changed insurers and then realised they are all the same.

I am a young driver in a car which just about passed its MOT, of course, they would treat me differently to someone who drives a Porsche – and yet I pay hundreds each year too.

I do understand roads are busier now and it is inevitable that more bumps will occur.

The problem with where I live, and I am sure this can be said for a lot of places, is that driving is turning into an assault course.

So many roads these days are filled with cars parked in the most obstructive places. Many of these are not even residents' vehicles but cars up for sale.

My road is like a second-hand car forecourt – just without the salesmen.

Countless times I have driven up to my house only to find some unsightly car is parked where I would normally leave mine. Why is it these cars are never clobbered? They don't pay business rates or advertising so surely karma should prevail.

At the moment there are six for sale in my road so although this is not an advert for buying a car, if anybody is interested in purchasing an Alfa Romeo 146 for £450 then please do – I need my parking space back.

TALK TIME

PAUL HOLT

The Samphire Hoe ranger tells Marijke Cox what he likes most about living and working in the area and the wildlife that he protects

Tell me a bit about yourself

My name is Paul Holt and I have been a ranger at Samphire Hoe since May 1998. I am originally from Croydon but have lived in Dover for the past nine years.

Do you think much has changed over the last nine years?

The countryside has changed a bit. There are many new areas that have come into management and are looking really good, but there are still parts that I think could be improved if they were managed as well.

There are always good things coming into Dover town, although again I think there are areas that could be improved, but I'm very optimistic about this. With the proposals for Dover, I think it could be really exciting.

What is your favourite thing about Dover?

The whole countryside around Dover is great. It's amazing. A lot of people just travel through but if they actually spent a bit more time exploring the local scenery they would have a wonderful time. Dover is superb – the cliffs are so dramatic and with the beaches as well, it truly is a beautiful area.

Could you explain a little bit about Samphire Hoe?

Samphire Hoe is a new bit of England made up from 4.9 million cubic meters of chalk marl dug up to create the Channel Tunnel. It really is a place to see wildlife but also a place for people to come and enjoy the views of the sea, the White Cliffs and to experience the peaceful landscape that it is in. The site is owned by Eurotunnel and managed in partnership with White Cliffs Countryside Project. It started off as sea, then turned into an industrial site and is now a quiet country park that people love.

YOUR LETTERS

Getting on my smoking platform

Firstly, congratulations on producing a very readable publication.

As a regular daily commuter to London Victoria, I was furious after reading the article last week about the potential lifting of the smoking ban on open-air station platforms.

After spending many years enduring wafts of smoke drifting down the platforms from inconsiderate smokers, it came as a great relief in July when smoking was finally banned from stations.

When you are standing next to a smoker it makes no difference whether the platform is in the open air or not. Smoke invariably gets blown down the platform into your face – not a pleasant experience at 6.30 in the morning!

It is absolute rubbish to say it is the stress of commuting that is driving this request. In my experience the services are actually now very reliable – I always get a seat and the services are rarely late.

May I suggest to the stressed smokers that they lower their blood pressure by quitting their revolting habit, get some exercise to relieve the stress, and give some consideration to us non-smokers who have finally got some relief from your anti-social habit.

BOB'S BROADBAND TV

BOB GELDOLF has launched Kent TV – the UK's first county council-funded, on-demand broadband television channel.

The anti-poverty campaigner has lived in Kent for more than 20 years and is co-founder of Ten Alps, the media company which won the contract to operate the station for Kent County Council.

He joined council leader Cllr Paul Carter, Nigel Dacre, managing director of Ten Alps, and Tanya Oliver, KCC's head of strategic development unit, on Friday at Maidstone Studios for the official launch.

The service will be available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, at www.KentTV.com and has commissioned seven local production companies to produce 28 films.

Sir Bob said: "It's pretty cool – it's very experimental and potentially very interesting."

It comes just two weeks after KOS Media launched its own broadband TV service for the county alongside a line-up of new newspapers and websites, including Yourthanet.

Folkestone and the old High Street really does show promise. But taking a walk around there recently I was struck at how expensive the prices were in the stores.

I feel that Folkestone needs other attractions to bring in the sort of people who will gladly fork out large sum of money for interior design objects, handicrafts and artwork.

The cafés and bars along the hill leading down to the shoreline are a good start – but then there is that awful ugly mess of a hotel looming over everything.

Plans to turn the harbour into a marina are a step in the right direction – but who wants to moor their million-pound yacht in the shadow of that monstrosity?

Marsh into the 20th century

I was glad to read last week that Romney Marsh had finally arrived in the 20th century – not the 21st, you'll note – as homes are now connected to mains drainage.

For far too long we have had to put up with cesspits and tanks which are like something from the Middle Ages.

While everyone was pleased to see tankers come to empty them, the disruption and bad smells which occurred were not looked forward to at all.

Help save your local TV coverage

As your readers may be aware, ITV has announced plans to change its regional news coverage and scrap its three editions of Meridian Tonight, replacing them with one programme covering an area from Southend in Essex to Weymouth in Dorset.

We believe this will provide viewers with a much poorer service, ending the dedicated, award-winning, programme for Kent and Sussex.

We would ask any readers who share this view to express their opinion to their local MP and to the broadcasting regulator Ofcom.

The regulator can be contacted by email at PSBReview@ofcom.org.uk.

As part of the complement of media outlets in Kent, like the papers in the KOS Media group (publishers of Yourthanet), we believe the public in our area currently receives a first-class service, but this is one which will be damaged if these plans go ahead.

Ofcom claims to place great weight on the opinions of the public it is meant to serve, and we believe that the views of Yourthanet readers can help stop this proposal.

Club move holds the key to a new pool

The best thing for the people of Ramsgate and Thanet is to move Ramsgate Football Club from Southwood to the swimming pool site in Newington Road.

The Southwood site could then be sold to help fund the changeover and the new pool.

By filling in the pool, there would be space for a play area for indoor sports such as five-a-side football.

This would make another place for the people of Thanet to go to.

Ramsgate Football Club already does a lot for local children, so they deserve better facilities – there is no need to knock them down.

Mr C Jarvis

I just love this island football rivalry

It really is a delight to see both Margate and Ramsgate Football Clubs doing so well.

I'm fascinated to watch every twist and turn as these two clubs – so rich in tradition – battle for supremacy in the Ryman Premier League.

I admit I'm a Rams man through and through, and I've little doubt that my club will finish in a higher position than our Thanet rivals, but it's great that we'll be treated to a couple of derby games this season.

cervical screening. The new bowel cancer screening test has the potential to save thousands more men and women across the UK. But we know that even more lives could be saved.

Millions of eligible people are not being screened for cancer and we want to see politicians taking action.

As a bowel cancer survivor and campaigner, I know only too well how vital it is to catch cancer in the early stages. This means treatment is simpler and more likely to be effective.

Please help Cancer Research UK put pressure on politicians to provide the best possible screening programmes by signing our petition at www.cancercampaigns.org.uk.

Lee's having the last laugh

Ricky Gervais is a huge fan, but his mum prefers Tom O'Connor – so just how funny is Stewart Lee?

ANYONE who has ever enjoyed cutting-edge comedy will be familiar with Stewart Lee's work, even if they don't recognise his face.

His many writing credits include Radio 4's On The Hour, which later became the groundbreaking TV series The Day Today and launched the careers of, among others, Steve Coogan.

He acted as script editor for Harry Hill's first television programme, wrote episodes for Al Murray the Pub Landlord and this year co-scripted a critically acclaimed play with Johnny Vegas.

With a new stand-up tour called 41st Best Stand-Up Ever! – a homage to his ranking in a Channel 4 poll – audiences might be expecting a mediocre talent.

One of the poster quotes describes him as "the worst stand-up I have ever seen", but industry guru Ricky Gervais claims Lee is "the funniest, most cliché-free comedian on the circuit".

The unusual choice of tour name has proved a useful theme for the show, as Lee discusses our roles in life and how we are viewed by our families.

"My mother thinks I'm wasting my life in comedy," he revealed. "Her favourite comedian is Tom O'Connor and she keeps telling me one of his 'proper' jokes about a sardine. I got half an hour's worth of material out of that joke."

In the mid-90s, Lee and comedy partner Richard Herring enjoyed a spell as student heroes with BBC2 series Fist of Fun and This Morning With Richard Not Judy. Now 39, Lee is slightly bemused by the apparent nostalgia for their surreal old shows.

"When we started out as a double act, the viewing figures weren't great and nobody came to our live shows," he said. "So it was strange to realise that people viewed us in that fond way. Now people who liked us back then bring their kids to my show. But the growth of the internet means people are discovering them again and talking about new comedies."

Lee's first brush with major mainstream success was to become one of the most painful episodes in his career, when he was asked to direct and contribute to the hugely controversial stage show Jerry Springer: The Opera in 2001.

When it ran at London's National Theatre for four months in 2003, Lee described that period as "the highlight of my life".

But after a four-year run in theatres and a good deal of critical acclaim, the opera attracted the attention of Christian Right groups and the British National Party. The massive protests and media debate that followed effectively derailed the production, leaving Lee disillusioned with mainstream theatre.

Also a novelist and a rock music critic for the Sunday Times, Lee is dedicated to providing alternative entertainment and escaping "the squares". If anything good came out of his Jerry Springer experience, he claimed, it was the chance to kill off the show while it was still worth watching.

He said: "Most things do become worse with popularity. When I was a kid, indie music and alternative comedy was just for the weirdos, but now you get football fans going to comedy gigs and listening to Oasis."

"Now I think what's left for all the misfits? I left my last management company because they were trying to get me a late-night ITV slot, as if that was the logical end point for my career. But I didn't want that."

"I would like more money, though, so that's why I'm writing the next series of My Family. That's a joke, by the way."

• Stewart Lee is appearing at the Gulbenkian Theatre, Canterbury, at 7.45pm on Friday, October 5. Tickets cost £14/£12. To book, you can phone 01227 769075, or visit www.gulbenkiantheatre.co.uk.

THE RAGGED TROUSERED PHILANTHROPISTS

Thursday, October 4, The Village Hall, River

THE suffering of lowly workers in genteel Edwardian society is revealed in The Ragged Trousered Philanthropists.

Adapted by Philip Dart from Robert Tressell's acclaimed novel, the story follows the plight of a team of builders and decorators as they struggle to survive on the breadline.

Despite focusing on the powerful human stories in the novel, there is also plenty of humour in Chalkfoot Theatre Arts' production as the tricks and scams of the tight-fisted bosses are revealed.

The production was a sell-out success when it toured south-east England last year.

Robert Tressell's only novel, The Ragged Trousered Philanthropists, remains a very popular book. It did much to change 20th-century attitudes towards workers and was voted above Bridget Jones' Diary and Bleak House in a BBC survey in 2003.

The performance starts at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £5-£6 if bought a week in advance, or £6-£7 if bought later. To book, phone 01304 823598.

WALTER TROUT

Tuesday, October 2
Astor Theatre Arts Centre, Deal

BLUES legend Walter Trout will be demonstrating his undiminished passion for music when he appears in Deal next week.

The American's 35-year career began with a trumpet and ambitions to be a jazz player, before an album by The Paul Butterfield Blues Band featuring Mike Bloomfield changed his life.

Trout bought his first electric guitar in his teens and vowed to dedicate his life to the pursuit of great blues music.

Over the years his career has gone from strength to strength and he has performed with greats including John Lee Hooker and Joe Tex.

His latest album, Full Circle, is a tribute to the people and times that helped to shape his musical career.

He famously said: "People ask me if they should call my music blues or rock. I tell them they can call it 'Fred' if they must have a label."

The gig starts at 8pm. Tickets cost £16 in advance or £20 on the door. For booking information, call 01304 381134 or go online at www.astortheatre.co.uk.

Journey into the unknown

■ BY ROBIN WALKER

KURT RUSSELL has been working as an actor in Hollywood since he was a child in the 60s, but he's about as different as can be from the typical Tinseltown thespian.

For one, he is a card-carrying member of the National Rifle Association and an admitted Republican, something a lot of similar-minded stars have chosen to keep under wraps in the liberal world of showbiz.

"There were instances where people would call me up and say 'This director was afraid of working with you because of your politics,'" said the 56-year-old, who dubs himself a libertarian. "That started to change about 10 years ago," he continued. "Writers stopped trying to turn me into a wooden Republican along the lines they were doing to Charlton Heston. Now I can go to a party and not feel so outcast."

He is also unafraid to admit that acting is one of the easier professions and something that has got him into trouble with those who prefer to play the 'artiste'.

"To go on about acting as art is ridiculous," he said. "You don't have to be gifted just to hit a mark and say a line. As far as I'm concerned, that's 90 per cent of the job. Anyone who finds acting difficult just shouldn't be doing it."

Indeed, the reluctant professional does make his latest role look easy, playing a psychotic driver called Stuntman Mike in Quentin Tarantino's new film, Death Proof.

A heartless but charismatic villain, Mike cajoles young women into his specially adapted car for a journey that normally ends in tragedy.

"I just took one word and ran with it – coward," said Russell of his approach to the character. "This is a guy who kills women. I and both are apparently fans. "To be part of, in a weird way, the process of their love affair with movies was a special feeling," said Russell.

Most important to the actor was creating a really memorable screen baddie. "I've never actually seen one of these characters at the end of a movie completely fall apart. It's like when you hammer your finger – you have an idea what it will feel like, but when you actually do it it's way worse than you thought!" he said.

Renowned for his on-screen stunts, Russell shows no signs of wanting to scale down the action, and does a lot of the incredible driving in the movie himself.

"The problem is you're in the wrong lane doing 100mph," said Russell.

"You have to trust that a coyote won't run into the road or another car slip by one of the roads they've told you are shut off. To put that out of your head and play the character while you're doing it, that's what you get paid to do."

• Death Proof, directed by Quentin Tarantino, was released last Friday.

Let the Oriana take the strain

■ BY JEREMY GATES

WHEN Atlantic breezes nudged up to Force Seven, and Oriana's captain gently applied his accelerator, the P&O cruise ship devised such a beguiling roll that the chairs in the library lounge became positively hypnotic.

Perhaps Nelson's men felt the same in their hammocks. Ongoing research among my fellow passengers found hardly any of us could hold a book or magazine for more than 10 minutes before zizzing gently off to the Land of Nod.

The 70,000-tonne Oriana took over from Canberra as the new mainstay of P&O's fleet back in 1995, when few realised a new boom in cruising lay just around the corner.

Since then the new generation of superliners has taken over, some twice Oriana's size and even bigger. Plenty have become giant floating hotels or shopping malls.

After a major upgrade last autumn, Oriana, to her great credit, continues to set her own style: she's Middle England at sea, when so many other ships adopt the brasher approach of the US/Caribbean cruise market.

Although Oriana carried a full complement of 1,800 passengers on our trip, we ordered breakfast in our room – at no extra charge – to watch the sun coming up over the Atlantic breakers entirely alone.

There are still only a handful of shops on board, the cricket bats signed by Don Bradman and Colin Cowdrey are still proudly on show in the Lord's Tavern bar, and a pre-breakfast stroll on the promenade deck brings cheerful smiles of greeting from early retirees sporting the latest leisure gear.

In line with the latest fashion, of course,

Oriana will serve up meals around the clock in various bars on the lido deck. But why forgo the pleasant evening ritual of dressing to a modestly respectable level for either first or second sitting of dinner in the formal restaurants?

We thought the quality of the food this time was even better than on our first visit.

Before each stop, there's a duty-free sale of 'take ashore' items – from spirits to cigarettes – to boost takings.

With so many things to do on board, ports of call passed in something of a blur – and few passengers seemed bothered about where they went anyway.

The city of Corunna is a nicer corner of northern Spain than it looks at first sight. Santa Cruz, on the northern shore of Tenerife, is being impressively revamped to give this beleaguered island a new, upmarket, image.

Lanzarote I can't recall with pleasure, because I ended up amid the boozy bars of Puerto del Carmen, but Madeira is the perfect pitstop on any voyage. That first glimpse of Funchal climbing endlessly up a steep hillside as you pull back the curtains can't fail to take the breath away.

When we climbed the elegant flower gardens of Funchal to look down on the Oriana, in harbour, bedecked in flags from stem to stern, I realised how misguided is the 'expert' who wrote that the QE2 is the last ship to actually look like a cruise ship.

Oriana is a stunner, too. If you can get on board for £100 per person per day, with all meals and entertainment provided and occasional ice creams thrown in for free, the opportunity should not be missed.

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 - Feb 19)

EXPANDING your horizons will be easier than usual over the next four weeks. Don't be surprised if you make friends with somebody influential as a result of your activities. On a personal note an admirer could become relentless in their pursuit of you. Signing a contract is favoured this week, as is sealing a deal with a neighbour or relative.

TAURUS (Apr 21 - May 21)

THERE'S never been a better time to launch a job search or exercise programme. If you're happy with your current employer, you may want to negotiate a better package or added perks. Dealings with a bureaucratic institution could finally be wrapped up, giving you the green light to get your plans up and running.

LEO (July 24 - Aug 23)

THE next four weeks promise to be a busy time. It's vital you keep on top of phone calls, emails, and text messages or an important deal could fall through the cracks. If you've already got a partner, arrange a fun mini break for you both. Special recognition could be given to you soon, opening the door to a whole new set of career options.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

YOU'LL be keeping a low profile between now and late October. It's easy to negotiate a great financial deal from behind the scenes. If you've been interviewing for jobs, you could get a solid offer by the end of the week. Having this position makes it easier to assert your ideas with confidence. Pursue a course of study between now and the end of the year.

PISCES (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

GETTING closer to the one you love may be your first order of business, but don't let personal issues stop you attending to financial matters. You may also want to nudge your older relatives into making similar arrangements. Wrap up any ongoing salary negotiations if you can this week for your chances of earning more money will be strong.

GEMINI (May 22 - Jun 22)

THIS week begins the most romantic phase of the year for you. If you're single, be sure to hit as many social gatherings as possible. If you already have a partner, arrange a trip for you and your amour. Your connection with a large organisation could come to an end allowing you to shift your focus to increasing your income between now and December.

VIRGO (Aug 24 - Sep 23)

THIS week brings an opportunity to make money by doing something you love. Don't be afraid to send your CV to an employer that has always interested you. If you're happy with your current post, ask the boss if you can work from home. A decision regarding an insurance payment, tax refund, or inheritance could be made in your favour.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23 - Dec 21)

YOUR social life sparkles over the next four weeks. This is a wonderful time to make new business and romantic contacts. Your powerful personality makes a good impression on a group of intellectuals. A love affair could fill you with anticipation for a happy future. Don't be surprised if you find yourself spending quiet evenings with your beloved.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

YOU'RE very decisive when it comes to romance and now you're sure you want to move forward with a blossoming affair. This talk could prompt you to embark on an exciting journey. Finishing a personal project gives you a terrific burst of energy. Household matters will take up the lion's share of your attention from now until the end of the year.

CANCER (Jun 23 - Jul 23)

THE month ahead gives you a chance to attend to domestic matters. A pressing career matter is concluded helping you make changes to your workplace with a well-worded proposal. Studies related to religion or culture could take on an increased importance between now and October. Be aggressive about your desires until the end of the year.

LIBRA (Sep 24 - Oct 23)

YOU'LL be coming into your own this week. Don't let anybody dictate the terms of a deal to you. By communicating your needs with power and passion, you'll get everything you want. A close relationship could undergo a profound change as a result of this sting. Your partner is really turned on by the new you.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan 20)

YOU can make impressive progress up the career ladder in the coming months. Don't be afraid to take the reins of power if your boss has to step down for a while. If someone offers you a tough job, accept the challenge willingly. This week is ideal for closing on a house or resolving a family conflict. Give a loved one your unconditional support.

When this Belle rings Billie comes a calling

■ BY ANDY WELCH

WHEN the name Billie Piper comes up in conversation, one of two images tend to spring to mind for most people.

Either as a teen popstar or as Rose Tyler in the resurrected and hugely successful Doctor Who.

From this week she will add a third public face, and this one is very grown up.

She appears in Secret Diary Of A Call-Girl, in which she plays prostitute Belle de Jour – a true story adapted for the new ITV2 series.

'Belle' – her real identity has never been revealed – worked as a high-class escort in London for years, before detailing her exploits in a famous online blog and later in two books, The Intimate Adventures Of A London Call-Girl and The Further Adventures Of A London Call-Girl.

"It's intimate," said Billie of the eight-part series. "Really intimate. I'm really scared, if I'm honest. Well, just... I'm quite nervous, you know, because of the nature of the show."

"I hope people think it's been handled well and that at times it makes people laugh and that people can get over the initial shock factor of the piece."

It may indeed come as a shock to some viewers to see Billie – who celebrated her 25th birthday this month – writhing around in her underwear, and of course, in some scenes, doing what prostitutes do – having sex. But the young actress is more than aware of what she's letting herself in for.

Billie said: "I considered this job more than I considered anything before. It's such a different world to what I know. Obviously it's quite full on and it's relentless. It's not just one sex scene here and there, it's... endless!"

ALL CHANGE: From travelling the galaxy with Dr Who, Billie Piper plays a high-class prostitute in her latest role

Many people would happily admit that acting out such scenes in front of a room full of camera crew would make us blush, but Billie maintains she didn't get embarrassed.

"You talk endlessly about it and you choreograph it like a contemporary dance," she said.

As viewers will soon find out, Billie spends a lot of time in her skimpies, but she looks good, make no mistake. So is her super-toned body the result of hours and hours in the gym?

"No, not the gym. I don't like the gym at all, makes me want to kill myself. But I have been running outside quite a bit, and I'd just finished a play," she said.

Despite winning a Guardian newspaper award for Blog of the Year and publishing two books, there is still some doubt by sceptics as to whether Belle was a real person.

Billie, however, insists that she met the real Belle, who helped her to prepare for the role.

"She's sweet and she's interesting. She's very clever as well," Billie says.

As well as being impressed by the former call-girl – who has apparently now retired – Billie had a few questions of her own for Belle.

"I wanted to know when she was with a bloke, what their faces were like," she says.

Pardon?

"I wanted to know if they were bolshy and turned into egomaniacs or power-freaks," she added.

"Belle told me that it was quite the opposite. Men get really scared and vulnerable and nervous, worrying about if they are going to be exposed to the point where they can't perform. I didn't think it would be like that, so it was quite fascinating really."

LOCAL TV ONLINE

MISSING FRIENDS: A non-profit-making, three-minute music video called Missing Friends/Amigos Perdidos, made by children, for children. Explanation: "We know it won't win an Oscar, but just the same we think it is beautiful because it's a film of our children capturing the innocence and joy of their childhood. What could be more precious? Sadly, thousands of children just like them disappear each and every year, and the names of Ben Needham, Yermi Vargas and Madeleine McCann have been added to that growing list."

"None of us can afford to be indifferent. Evil flourishes when good people choose to do nothing. The reality is we are part of a community that is local, national and worldwide, especially where this cause is concerned."

"We can all be more proactive and a little less reactive. Together, we can make a difference, but only if we try. This is the least we owe Ben, Yermi and Madeleine, and every other missing child and tormented family that has suffered through this never-ending tragedy. Let's all protect the innocent."

SHAMEFUL BEHAVIOUR: Local rising rock band Shameful Behaviour perform So Fine at the now-lamented Ashford Rocks in April.

SIX YEARS LOST: Band perform their song, The Sky is Empty, live at the Shrimpers Regatta on Gravesend Prom – on a rather wet and windy day.

MUSIC BY YERK: Enjoy the sounds of UK electronic artist Yerk, otherwise known as Mr Nick Burkinyoung.

One-to-one attention! I don't feel tired or lethargic anymore!

Before I was introduced to SureSlim, I had tried other diets which really didn't work for me, I was left feeling miserable, fed up of being the size I was and fed up of being on my own.

My life was being affected by my weight: relationships, day to day life and not being able to control my weight, so I decided to contact SureSlim.

My consultant explained everything, the diet, the foods, the seeds, the times to eat etc, and so I took the plunge. What I really liked and what convinced me to join, was the one-to-one attention and the whole programme gave me structure and discipline. I also knew SureSlim were always at the end of the phone!

All very different from the other diet clubs I had tried.

During the first week, I had to detox but I had no ill effects at all. I started to enjoy the foods I was allowed and realised that I was eating properly for the first time in ages. I lost 10lbs in the first week!

I have continued to lose weight and have gone from 397lbs to 184lbs, that's 28 stone to 13 stone!

Since losing the weight I can now buy clothes from 'normal' shops and I don't stand out anymore because of my weight – I blend in with other people.

I've had such a good response from friends and family and I feel so much more confident, healthy and happy in all situations. I now swim regularly and can walk up the stairs without getting out of breath. The more weight I lost, the better my blood pressure readings and cholesterol levels became. I have now come off all the medication I was on and I don't feel tired or lethargic any more and best of all, I have a prolonged life expectancy.

There is not a word in the English language which can describe the way I feel now!!

PROPERTY NEWS

Exchange rate matters when buying overseas

PROPERTY investors looking to the overseas market could stand to lose more than £3,500, according to experts at the Property Investor Show.

At a time when the pound is strong against some of the world's leading currencies, second homebuyers and property investors should be looking to cash in on exchange rates when transferring money for the property purchase.

Instead, the investor's group claim many are losing money on this important transaction simply by using a high street bank rather than a foreign exchange specialist which offers a more competitive rate.

Mark O'Sullivan, head of trading at Currencies Direct: "Aside from a UK home, buying a property abroad is likely to be the most expensive purchase you will make and it is crucial to get the best deal on the exchange rate to ensure you don't lose out when transferring money overseas.

"Using a specialist rather than a bank could save thousands of pounds which can be spent on other initial costs. This figure doesn't even take into account the transfer fees that many banks charge, which would inflate the amount further."

Home owners' fears over interest rate hike

CONCERNS over mortgage rates have intensified this month, according to the latest survey.

Website propertyfinder.com's monthly survey uncovered reduced optimism when it comes to house prices across the market.

It is now expected that prices will rise at a rate of 3.9 per cent – roughly in line with wage growth. This represents a slower-than-expected hike in prices, which were forecast for a 5.1 per cent rise over the summer months.

Added to this is the fear that interest rates are set to get higher, meaning more cash outlay for mortgage payers.

Warren Bright, chief executive of propertyfinder.com, said: "Buyers and sellers still expect house prices to rise – just more slowly.

"The housing market has responded to higher base rates and will adjust further thanks to the credit squeeze in the wholesale markets.

"For new borrowers, especially those with poorer credit records, mortgages will be harder to come by.

"It seems likely the housing market will remain slow."

RISE AND FALL: Although August figures show an increase in sales and buyers, there are still concerns over the effect HIPs and interest rates will have on the housing market

Housing market is still clouded by uncertainty

AFTER a slowdown in July the house market is once again picking up pace as estate agents report a rise in sales and buyers looking to snap up a property.

The latest information from the National Association of Estate Agents (NAEA) revealed the upturn with the number of registered buyers, properties on estate agents' books and sales per agent all rising during August.

However, with uncertainty clouding the economic climate, the majority of these figures were still down on the same time last year.

According to the NAEA, the number of people looking to purchase a home increased slightly in August with agents reporting a rise of 3.8 per cent with an average of 326 buyers registered on their books in comparison to the 314 recorded in July.

■ BY ED HILL

While an increase in house hunters is typical for the time of year, this is the lowest reported August rise since 2003, as increasing interest rates and reduced house price inflation cause caution among consumers.

The number of houses for sale increased in August as NAEA members reported an average of 81 properties for sale during the month compared to the 45 properties reported the previous month. The number of sales reported increased in August, with an average of 12 houses sold per agent compared to the 10 properties sold per agent in July.

The number this time last year was 15. The NAEA blame recent economic movements and introduction of the HIPs legislation for the decrease.

Meanwhile, first-time buyers took a smaller share of the market this summer as their percentage share was reported at 9.7 per cent, compared with 13.4 per cent in August 2006.

This continuing waning in the market can be partly attributed to the turbulent interest rate rises that have led to the current insecurity for this sector.

What's more, it is taking longer to complete house moves – rising from 17 weeks in 2006 to 18.2 in 2007.

NAEA president, Stewart Lilly, said: "The latest figures indicate that a period of low house price inflation may well be on its way.

"However, the recent introduction of the second phase of HIPs is likely to cause more disruption and in particular prompt a 'wait and see' strategy from individuals who are unsure about the full impact of the legislation."

All the comforts of home, none of the worries

After working hard all your life, don't you think you deserve a little pampering? Wouldn't it be nice to enjoy the garden without having to lift a finger, and who wants to worry about all those little jobs that need doing around your home?

McCarthy & Stone may have the solution with their brand new purpose-built retirement development in Margate.

Joyce and her husband Frank had been living in a three bedroom detached bungalow before moving to Dickens Court.

Joyce said "Neither Frank nor I like gardening and in the bungalow we had so much stuff that we thought we'd better get rid of it and make a new start while we were still fit and healthy.

"As soon as we heard that McCarthy & Stone were building in Cliftonville, we were down to the sales office like a shot."

Peace of Mind

Freedom from security worries makes for a happier, more carefree retirement.

Shortly after moving in, Frank and Joyce went on a cruise to Norway with the peace of mind knowing that their flat would be safe whilst they were away.

Like all McCarthy & Stone developments, Dickens Court has a TV camera entry system at the main entrance and a house manager to keep an eye on things. Furthermore, each apartment is connected to a 24-hour personal emergency system.

Making new Friends

As Dickens Court has filled up with new people, Frank and Joyce have been enjoying the company of their fellow residents.

Frank said "It's great fun now that the social side of things has got going. We're both on the social committee so we find we don't have much time to laze about. Where we were living before we didn't really get to know our neighbours. In fact, we've made more friends since we've been here than we did in the six years we spent in the bungalow."

Dickens Court has been specially designed for people aged 60 and over who enjoy an independent lifestyle.

Other facilities at Dickens Court include a lift to all floors, a laundry room and a guest suite for visiting family and friends.

Dickens Court, Margate.

Apartments at Dickens Court are priced from £129,950.

Show Complex open daily from 10.30am to 5.00pm.

For further information or to arrange a viewing, call Carol Foster on 01843 227783.

MOTORS NEWS

Renault customer to hit slopes after win

LUCKY prizewinner Sarah Thorne grabbed skis for her visit to Motorline Renault in Ashford.

Although there was a distinct lack of snow at the Hilton Road dealership, she was gearing up for a winter sports holiday courtesy of the motor group.

She won £350 of holiday vouchers in a summer draw held across Motorline's four Renault service centres: Maidstone, Canterbury, Ashford and Dover.

As a keen skier there was no doubt about how Sarah, from Tenterden, would use her windfall: "I'm delighted. I haven't won anything like this before. I'm planning to use the vouchers towards a skiing holiday next year."

Why green is being highlighted in white

WHITE is the new green, judging by the many white-painted eco-friendly concept cars now produced as CO2 emissions become as crucial as fuel consumption.

Volvo's C30 special (pictured) highlights the trend well, but Fiat's small car line-up makes it favourite to lead the environmental battle.

Group chief Luca di Meo said: "We aim to be the manufacturer with the lowest CO2 emissions in Europe – and want to do this the Fiat way, providing customers with everyday solutions to reduce the environmental impact of personal transportation."

Micra '2008' due for launch next month

NISSAN has revamped its distinctive Micra for 2008 models, launched in October.

Trim levels and colour specs have also been revised to harmonise with the bigger Note hatchback/MPV and hugely successful Qashqai.

Features such as an audible speed warning system and Bluetooth phone link are now standard on certain versions and all Micras will now have a jack socket so that MP3 players can be played through the car's sound system.

Prices are also largely unchanged, starting from £7,495.

IMPROVED LOOK: New Toyota Prius is easier on the eye compared with its 'wheelie-bin' predecessor, but we're still waiting for an environmentally-friendly car that thrills

Green gamble looks a good bet for Toyota

ALREADY the world's most profitable carmaker, and likely to overtake General Motors soon as the most productive, it also makes the world's most famous environmentally-friendly car – the Toyota Prius.

This petrol-electric hybrid asks oil addicts to make few sacrifices for rehab; there are no muesli-pattern seats or recycled rubber fixtures and fittings.

It even has air-con and a fairly racy shape – a sharp contrast with the original car's designer wheelie bin looks.

The styling may be irrelevant to Prius fans though, because it is the 1.5-litre petrol engine and 1.2-litre electric low emission and consumption power partnership that they like.

Together, they push out 143bhp – enough for a reasonable 0-62mph of around 11 seconds.

Not that anyone puts that to the test, because you soon find yourself playing a game with the throttle and the 'powertrain' graphics on the dashboard, so the electric motor whirrs happily without waking the nasty, dirty petrol engine.

So, within an hour you have been through rehab and instead of risking road rage you are wafting around like a highway hippie delivering the milk.

The brakes are clever too, because they recover what would be lost energy on a normal car and channel it back into the car's battery – good for stop-start town traffic.

But all this technology costs. The cheapest Prius is nearly £18,000 – Toyota's equivalent conventional family hatchback, the Auris, starts at around £12,000 – and Toyota is rumoured to be subsidising every Prius sold.

Greens and gadget fans apart, buyers may also be put off by the relatively untried technology – despite an impressive eight-year/100,000-mile warranty on the hybrid system itself.

The car is also 'extremely' automatic – you simply select forward or reverse and go from A to B – which makes it a bit dull to drive even though the car handles and rides well.

On the other hand, it is a practical car to live with; the hybrid powertrain and batteries do not impinge on the car's ability to function as a roomy family hatchback.

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

BEST-SELLING FAMILY HATCHBACKS

carsforkent.co.uk

LOOKING for a car that does it all? Start shopping for a family hatchback; it seats five, can be crammed like a small van and represents a good balance of space, flexibility and economy... providing you don't go for the 'hot hatch' version. Family hatches dominate the UK top 10 – all three of our recommendations are regulars – and the end product needs to be good to compete at all against talented opposition. Market clout helps, of course, but this trio deserves to be there on merit too – check out the profiles below.

FORD FOCUS

BRITAIN'S favourite car. Or is it? Some say it's number one through Ford's formidable market share. Fair point, but the Focus is also great to drive, practical, well-made and blessed with good engines. For second-hand buyers there is a fantastic choice of power – including the rapid ST – trim levels and body styles: a smart saloon and estate plus a coupé convertible. The car's popularity and ordinary looks are a weakness though and reason enough for some buyers to look elsewhere.

VAUXHALL ASTRA

SUFFERS like the Focus from being a common sight, thanks to its lofty new car top 10 sales position. But nobody could accuse the Astra of being dreary looking; Renault Megane aside, it is the most sharply styled family hatchback on sale. Vauxhall has also differentiated between the three-door model, dubbed the Sport Hatch, and the five-door workhorse. There is a longer wheelbase estate too. Engine options, including impressive Fiat-derived diesels, are among the best around.

VW GOLF

IT costs extra to get into a Golf, signalling the power of a more premium bonnet badge. Highly-regarded diesels also keep used prices up, while the GTI hot hatch lends glamour to the whole range. Interior quality and ambience is top notch too and the driving experience is possibly best in class. That said, the Golf suffers from fairly dull styling and some buyers might be tempted by sexier and cheaper used rivals such as the Citroën C4 and Megane.

Europe's busiest and most successful ferry port, we handle 15 million passengers, 3 million tourist vehicles and 2 million freight vehicles a year. With these figures set to increase, we are investing around £300m in a new ferry terminal and associated infrastructure including a marina, property development and traffic regulation. ## BUSINESS BRIEFS

'Outdated family doc' a hazard to firms' health

EMPLOYEES and businesses are being unnecessarily burdened by the 'outdated family doctor service', the CBI claims.

Malcolm Hyde, CBI South East regional director, said: "Official figures show 10 million adults in England alone cannot book an appointment with a GP more than 48 hours in advance. It's time there was real and fundamental reform, with the needs of the patient coming first."

"A healthy workforce is as important to employers as a workforce with the skills needed to compete. An employee who isn't there because they have to wait around in a GP's surgery is a lost order or an unanswered phone call."

Government must fight EU's agency directive

FLEXIBLE working for thousands of people across the county could be in jeopardy, despite it being increasingly offered by businesses – according to the latest research from the Confederation of British Industry.

The CBI has warned the Government it must stand firm against renewed EU and union pressure to resurrect the draft Agency Workers Directive, which puts agency workers on an equal footing with permanent staff after just six weeks.

The survey, by the CBI, the UK's biggest employers' organisation and the recruitment specialist Pertemps, suggests up to 250,000 placements across the country would be jeopardised if the directive were to be adopted.

Diva-Biz site is offering something for the lady

A NEW video-based website designed for the busy female executive has been launched.

The Diva-Biz site offers a web-based mentoring and leadership forum for professional women, where leading figures talk candidly about their own experiences.

Launch interviews include: Rachel Bridge, of the Sunday Times; Sarah Deaves, CEO at Coutts Bank; and Danielle Lux, managing director of Celador Productions.

The site has been set up by Fiona Price, who set up the first company in the UK giving financial advice to women.

THINKING PROCESS: With more and more new employment regulations being put on small businesses, it is good practice to take early action to ensure there is little disruption

New rules will affect every business leader

EMPLOYERS need to get to grips now with upcoming changes to employment regulations, a business support agency has warned.

As of October 1, there will be an increase in the statutory holiday entitlement to 4.8 weeks (24 days if you work a five-day week) and a rise in the minimum wage.

The adult rate for workers aged 22 and over will increase to £5.52 an hour.

And Business Link says local firms should be sure to have the right processes in place to minimise disruption to their operations.

The quarterly South East Business Monitor – a quarterly survey of 1,800 of the region's small-and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) – found recent changes to regulations such as the smoking ban, paternity and maternity rights and age discrimination are perceived by business owners to have had little impact on their companies.

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

Although almost one third (32 per cent) of Kent companies identify red tape as a constraint on their business, the majority have a good understanding of the latest regulations.

Of the SMEs involved in the survey, introducing a smoke-free workplace (84 per cent), age discrimination (82 per cent) and maternity and paternity rights (72 per cent) legislation said there was no impact on their business.

Business Link's Linda Bennett said: "It seems that people running businesses have a 'can do attitude' and simply get on with the day-to-day running of their companies. Businesses are generally more affected by the fear of red tape than the actual implications of new regulations.

"Understanding new legislation is a vital part of coping with the changes that you may need to make to your business. Getting to grips with regulations can seem daunting at first, but we are able to advise on how to stay within the law. Taking early action can mean there is very little impact on your business."

"It can be difficult to find the time, particularly for small businesses, to keep up with changing legislation and take the necessary action."

Business Link has drawn up a practical guide to explaining the legal responsibilities and how best to prepare.

Reds triumph in Vase match

HYTHE Town made it five wins in a row on Saturday with a 2-0 win over Shoreham in the FA Vase.

Goals from Gavin Ransley and Lee Winfield either side of half time were enough to see The Reds through to the first round proper.

The visitors came into the game with just one defeat all season, but the Sussex County League side were unable to find a way through the hosts' defence.

The result made it five wins in a row and eight wins out of nine for Hythe this season. They get back to Kent League action on Saturday against Erith & Belvedere.

Hares pleased with 4-1 win

AARON Robinson scored twice as Deal Town comprehensively beat Redhill in the FA Vase.

The hosts ran out 4-1 winners to progress to the next round, which pleased manager Derek Hares.

He said: "I thought overall we played very well and controlled the game."

"Our front three were excellent, every time we got the ball it looked like we could score – that's the way it has been for most of the season."

It was a tight game until David Cory and Robinson scored in the space of three minutes just before half time.

Robinson made it 3-0 just after the break, and although Adam Govey scored an own goal the visitors could not get back into the match.

Danny Smith completed the scoring to leave Hares hopeful of progressing.

He said: "With a bit of luck we could go quite far, if we can turn our cup performances into league form I think we will do quite well."

MISSED CHANCE: It was a case of two points dropped for Folkestone Invicta at home to Harrow Borough as the visitors came back from a goal down to earn a point in a 1-1 draw from close range, only for Harrow goalkeeper Gary Ross to pull off an outstanding save.

Folkestone Inv 1-1 Harrow Boro'

After the interval Folkestone were again on top.

Two minutes into the half Remy was fouled and from the resulting free-kick from Kevin Watson both James Everitt and captain Roland Edge were came close to doubling the lead.

A second goal would have broken Harrow's resistance and made the game safe, but Invicta could not find a way past Ross in the visitors' goal.

On 62 minutes a set piece again caused Borough problems, but their defence blocked efforts from James Everitt and Corbett.

The longer the game went on the more nervous the 200 home fans inside the Buzzlines Stadium became as Harrow began to sense they could get something from the game.

Sure enough they punished Invicta for their lack of ruthlessness and equalised.

Harrow were a threat on the break and on 68 minutes the dangerous Albert Adomah broke down the right-hand side and his cross was headed in by Elliot Onochie.

They almost snatched all three points with six minutes to go.

Onochie played the ball back to Rene James-Barriteau on the right side of the box, but the substitute blasted wastefully high and wide.

The result left Invicta 14th in the Ryman Premier and made it three wins and two draws from their last five games.

Cugley's side are unbeaten since the defeat at Boreham Wood on September 1, but they will be disappointed not to have got maximum points.

The team had a chance to make amends for the two points dropped when they took on Billericay Town on Monday night. For the match report see yourshepway.co.uk.

Invicta turn their attentions to the FA Cup this weekend with a home tie against Windsor & Eton.

FOLKESTONE Invicta extended their unbeaten run to five games, but they created enough chances against Harrow Borough to win the game and move into the top half of the table for the first time this season.

Invicta boss Neil Cugley made one enforced change to the side that beat Horsham in the FA Cup replay four days earlier. Striker Leigh Bremner was ruled out through injury and was replaced by Ellis Remy.

Remy made the most of his chance and put the home side ahead after five minutes for his first goal of the season. The 23-year-old's shot came at the end of a fine move Mark Saunders and James Corbett.

The hosts controlled possession for long periods of the game and carved enough openings to put the game beyond the visitors.

Their best opportunity before the break came on 33 minutes. A Corbett cross from the right found Saunders who looked certain to score

Sharks bite back with rout

DOVER responded well to last week's disappointing result with an inspired team performance against Eastbourne.

Their aggressive start paid dividends when, on the seventh minute, Buster Collins broke from a lineout and Ricky Stanley passed the ball to Ben Murray, who touched down for the first of Dover's eight tries.

Martyn Beaumont kicked the conversion, going on to kick all eight conversions plus a penalty.

Foz Foster was the next on the score sheet when he turned the ball over and ran 35 metres through two missed tackles to touch down.

Dover 59

The second half threatened to be more of a contest as Eastbourne started well when they kicked a penalty and finally put some points on the board.

Dover replied through Mackintosh who scored his second soon after, which killed the game.

The Sharks added to their score when Foster scored his second, when he broke from the rear of the line.

This was followed when Kirk

Savage took a scrum against the head with the ball being fed to Jamie Townley, who burst up the right flank to feed Beaumont who crossed the line.

Foster scored his third following a 75-metre break up field by Mackintosh to complete the rout.

Dover's senior coach, Graham Tonks, said: "This was an excellent team performance by every member of my team who all worked for each other. However as last week proved we must concentrate on working hard and ensure that we are consistent week on week."

"This is a competitive league and we must consolidate our position and not get carried away."

Croydon Ath 1-3 Dover Ath

ANDY Hessenthaler's Dover left it late to see off Croydon Athletic with two goals in the last seven minutes from substitute Frannie Collin.

On the victory Hessenthaler said: "It was a good three points against a good squad of players. We showed great character and determination to come back after Croydon equalised late on."

Dover's first chance of the game came on 19 minutes when good build up play from Hessenthaler led to John Keister's cross which was scrambled away by Croydon keeper Danny Firkins.

New signing Lee Browning made his debut for Dover and was instrumental throughout first half.

The Whites goalkeeper pulled off string of saves to keep Dover in the game in the first half with the score 0-0 at the break.

Dover started the second half brightly, piling the pressure on the Croydon defenders.

It was Andy Hessenthaler who opened the scoring early in the second half when his header from a cross field pass finished in the top corner of the net.

Frannie Collin could have extended the lead when his free-kick was saved by Firkins.

Croydon fought back and on 83 minutes a free-kick was deflected by Dover centre back which beat Dean Ruddy at the near post.

Minutes later Dover took the lead as an intricate pass from Byron Walker found Collin in the area who skipped past a defender and his shot beat keeper Firkins.

The Whites extended their lead when Walker was brought down by the Croydon keeper and Collin stepped up to and slotted the ball home.

On Browning's debut Hessenthaler added: "Lee had a bright debut and linked up very well with the lads."

Making a Deal for top spot position

DEAL & Betteshanger kept their 100 per cent start to the season going and went top of the London 3 South East table.

Tries from Luke Armstrong (two), Matthew Michael and Nathan Mitford won a keenly contested game in East Sussex. It was the third win in a row for coach Martin Michaels, who was pleased with the performance.

He said: "Credit to Lewes, they were very good up front and difficult to defend against."

"I thought both sets of forwards played well but we had the edge out wide and we are happy to come away with a win."

Deal arrived at Lewes late and they made an uncertain start. They gradually found some rhythm, and were 10-0 up at the break through a Tom Best penalty and Armstrong try.

Mitford scored early in the second half, but the home side hit back with a try of their own soon after to make it 17-7. A comeback did not look likely, and Armstrong and Michael made the game safe to complete a hat-trick of wins at the start of the season.

Despite the encouraging form, Michaels is not getting carried away.

He said: "It is a good start but with all due respect to the teams we have played we know they have been three of our easier fixtures."

"We are under no illusions that things are going to get tougher – now we need to step up a gear."

Next up this Saturday is a home match against Tonbridge Juddians, who they narrowly beat on two occasions last season.

The Juddians have made a miserable start to the campaign, losing their three matches in the division so far.

It's a rugby theme for Herne Bay Golf Club

DEAL and Betteshanger Rugby club are hosting a golf day at Herne Bay golf club this Friday.

Around 20 people are expected to play and players will enjoy a meal and a chance to watch England take on Tonga in the rugby world cup at the golf club.

The golf society meets once a month at various gold clubs across the county.

If interested in playing visit www.dealandbettesrfc.org.uk for more information.

Invicta's FA Cup hopes are high against Windsor

FOLKESTONE Invicta will face Windsor and Eton football club in the next round of the FA Cup after a 2-0 victory over Horsham YMCA.

Windsor and Eton play in the Southern League Division One south a step below Invicta.

The last time the two sides met was two seasons ago where Invicta were 1-0 winners.

Manager Neil Cugley said: "I am pleased with the draw we have played them before so we know what they are about."

"We have a good chance of going through."

Stone's top spot goal in Weekend Bognor game

AFTER two week's break, Folkestone Rugby Club are back in action this weekend in London South East 4 against Bognor Rugby Club.

Folkestone have started the season well with a convincing 25-7 win over league favourites Hove on the opening weekend of the season. However, Bognor destroyed Crowborough in their last game by 45-3 and are top of the league.

A win for the Stones would cement top spot in London South East 4 division.

Can Dover continue form to keep FA dream alive?

HYTE Town will host a pulsating FA Cup next week when they face Dover Athletic.

Athletic and Town have both been on a good run of form. Hessenthaler's Dover side are still yet to lose a match this season and Town have only had one defeat in eight games.

There will be familiar faces for Dover fans as long serving keeper Paul Hyde will be playing for Hythe and ex Dover Buster Smissen, Dale Skelton and Roy Godden may feature.
